James A. Follock & Co., 6 West Second South strent, furnish Logan & Bryan's New York stock letter under date of Tuesday, November 22: After a strong opening and some little advance over yesterday's prices the market seemed to half and hold off rather sharply and is closing weak. Stocks have had a long continued advance, with absolutely no set-back or reaction worthy of the name, and it is but natural on the first appearance of dear money to cause some little hairing and profit taking. The general situation, underlying stock market conditions, remains practically unchanged, and white profit taking induced by little dearer money may bring about some further decline, we feel good stocks can be bought on the recessions.

Naturally purchasers were looking for the bird at the lowest possible figure, and many bought at the cheaper price, without stopping to consider that they would save little or nothing on an eight-pound turkey, and would have the extra trouble of removing the head and fect. Dealers holding the turkeys at the higher price say they will not sell at a less figure; that they will put them in cold storage and save them for Christmas, when a great scarcity in turkeys is jooked for, rather than dispose of them at less than 25 cents a pound. Spring chickens yesterday advanced to 25 cents.

Dealers were making a run on cramberries yesterday, the best quality being offered at 10 cents a quart, retail, This is the lowest price the berries have reached this season, and probably will hold good no longer than Thanksgiving day. Bananas are being quoted at a little higher prices than heretofore, the best of them now going at 49 cents a dezen. Some are to be had at from 25 to 25 cents, but the choice ones bring 40 cents.

Nuts. dates and appress were sold in large quantitles yesterday. All kinds of nuts, except almonds, bring 25 cents a pound, the ilmonds being held at 25 cents. Halloway dates retail at 15 cents a pound, the Fards at 20 cents. Choice apples from Colorado and Idaho sell at 40 to 50 cents a peck.

Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Delay to harvest-ing in Argentina owing to wet weather caused strength in wheat here today. At the close the December option was up 15cc. May is up 19114c; corn shows a gain of 5cc outs are up 14c, and provisions, 5 to 5cc.

May is up ightic; com shows a gain of 500; onts are up ide, and provisions, 5 to 200.

From initial transactions to the end of the session the wheat market exhibited remarkable strength. At the opening December was up 1 to 1½ cents at $1.05½ to $1.05, and May ½ to 1½ cat $1.05½ to $1.05½. The advance was largely due to higher prices in foreign grain markets, Liverpool cables being up %d. notwithstanding the severe break here yeaterday. The strength abroad was said to be a result of active buying caused by reports from Argentha claiming that heavy rains had delayed harvesting in that country.

From the start shorts were eager bidders for wheat, but offerings at first were limited. A little later there was some selling as a result of liberal receipts in the Northwest. There was also considerable profit-taking which finally resulted in a slight reaction. At $1.05% for December, however, shorts again became active buyers and prices started on another unward movement. Throughout the remainder of the day the tendency was toward a higher level. A number of reports were received from the Southwest stating that rain is greatly needed and that much damage is being done by drought. Another builtsh consideration was a decrease in primary receives. Strength of cash wheat at Kanzas City was also a factor.

The high point on December for the day was reached at $1.05½. May fouched $1.16.

The market closed with December at $1.0%. May closed at $1.0%. $1.0%.

The strength of wheat small country receipts and higher prices at the sample tables were factors that held the corn market firm. The volume of trading was not large, business being largely of a scalping character. December opened & to 5c higher at 45% to 49%, sold between 45%, 45% and 40% and closed at 49c. May ranged between 45% and 46c and closed at 45%, 46c.

ranged between 604 and 46e and closed at $55,046c. In sympathy with the wheat market oats held firm, but the volume of trading was small. December opened a shade higher at 254c, sold up to 29c and closed at 274,92c. May ranged between all-96 314c and 214,0314c and closed at 314c. Local receipts were iol cars.

Persistent buying of lard and ribs by puckers caused a firm tone in provisions. At the start the market was a trifle caster on liberal receipts of hogs. Later prices railled and the market closed firm, with January pork up 174,22c at $12,574,50 12.90. Lard was up to $7. Ribs were 527 74c higher at $650.

The Board of Trade will be closed on Thanksgiving, Thursday, November 24 RANGE OF THE LEADING FUTURES.
